August 16, 2022

To Whom It May Concern:

I gladly write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Rishav Kumar Rajak, an undergraduate student at the Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi. He worked as an Analyst Intern at Axis Bank from 6th June 2022 to 29th July 2022. He developed a Term Deposit Propensity Model, which helps in targeted campaigning and resource allocation. His work included data mapping, data cleaning, feature engineering, and machine learning model development.

Rishav has a solid ability to analyse the situation and define priorities to reach deadlines and achieve objectives. He is sincere, disciplined, and can work well in a professional work environment.

During the internship, I observed Rishav as a self-starter and a productive contributor to team efforts. In addition to having a high degree of integrity and a cheerful personality, Rishav is one of those individuals who can follow instructions and take the initiative as appropriate. He was creative & innovative with his tasks and displayed good analytical skills. I strongly recommend Rishav for the future as he is a quick learner and will uphold the standards of the company he will work for.

Sincerely,
